DETAILED ACTION

The present Application has been transferred from former Examiner Young to the present Examiner.

Applicant's response and RCE are acknowledged.

Restriction election and traversal acknowledged

The FINAL restriction requirement is maintained as provided previously.

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-7, and the species election of SEQ ID NO: 4, in the reply filed on December 4, 2006 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the claims have unity of invention under PCT Rule 13.1. This is not found persuasive because it is proper to rely on evaluation of novelty or unobviousness when making a determination of unity of invention, the unity of invention of the instant application's claim set being broken by the prior art cited by the Examiner, Balaji et al. (J. Biol. Chem. 275(50):39516-22, 2000) does teach the special technical feature of the instant claims, the structure of the chiconotoxins. In regards the linking claim 8 recited in Applicant's response on page 4, it is drawn to non-elected inventions II-VII. Claim 5 is withdrawn as being drawn to non-elected species, the elected species being found unpatentable (see below).

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Applicant's arguments of record, as to the rejection of claims 1-4 and 6-7 over McIntosh et al. in view of Jones et al., regarding the elected species of SEQ ID NO: 4, is deemed persuasive.

Double Patenting Rejection

The rejection is maintained for the reasons of record. The '088 application has the same priority date as the present application, and remains under examination on the merits as to one or more overlapping peptides (e.g. SEQ ID NO: 5). At such time as the present application be found to contain allowable subject matter, a Terminal Disclaimer will be required should the overlapping subject matter remain.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Art Unit: 1654

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

The rejection of claims 1-4 as provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 2, 5, 6, 12, 13, 15-21, 38-41, 43, 45, 47, and 49 of copending Application No. 10/537,088, is maintained for the reasons of record as indicated above.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the species of conotoxin peptide claimed in the instant 10/537,704 as the elected peptide species SEQ ID NO: 4 is part of the Markush group comprising the conotoxin peptides claimed in the copending 10/537,088 as SEQ ID NO: 4 (in copending claim 2) and SEQ ID NO: 5 (in copending claims 5 and 6). Claims depending from the copending claims 2, 5 and 6 are directed towards further narrowing the Markush group, rendering the instant SEQ ID NO: 4 of 10/537,704 as a species of an ever smaller genus. The peptide sequence SEQ ID NO: 3 (instant claims 1 and 2), which is the foundation of the instant claim set in 10/537,704 is similarly within the bounds of the SEQ ID NO: 4 of the copending 10/537,088.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Objections

Claims 1-4 and 6-7 are objected to because of the following informalities:

The claims have not been amended in scope to the elected invention (species, after Lack of Unity) of SEQ ID NO: 4 (like those of claims 15-16). Were the claims so amended the application would likely receive favorable consideration. SEQ ID NO: 4 was not found to be reasonably taught, or suggested following the review of Applicant's arguments in the most recent response over the prior art of record.

Appropriate correction is required.

Conclusion

Claims 15-16 are allowed.
